LONGER SESSIONS CUT OUT RED TAPE

Senator Sale Proposes Amendments to Constitution Fixing Sessions of Sixty Days and Ninety Days and Doing Away With Many Readings of Bills.

RICHMOND, VA.—Special.—

In the purpose of Delegate Bill Sale to amend the constitution so as to limit the sessions of the General Assembly to sixty days every two years, except in the year following the election of governor, when the session may be ninety days, but differing in some unimportant particulars from the bill introduced in the House by Mr. Carmines and amended and amulled.

Since the institution of the auto or rather, since the case went to the supreme Court—the commission has been considering an amendment to the objectionable rule. In session and has heard certain evidence along this line.

SHOT BY WOMAN IN DEPARTMENT STORE

Frank Brady, Advertising Man, Instantly Killed in Restaurant of Macy's Department Store by Woman Who Afterwards Turns Pistol on Herself.

NEW YORK—Special.—Frank Brady, a well known advertising man, was shot and instantly killed in a restaurant in Macy's department store at noon today. The woman emptied a five-chamber revolver into Brady's body. Drawing a second revolver, she fired three bullets into her own head, and was taken to New York Hospital in a dying condition. She died a few minutes after reaching that institution.

The woman was identified as May Roberts Clarke, of 214 West One Hundred and thirty-third Street.

For a week or more Miss Clarke had not been seen with Brady, and had not been in the restaurant until today, when she entered alone. When Brady arrived at the restaurant, which is one of the largest in the city, it was crowded with women shoppers and a few men. The shooting caused a great excitement, women running shrieking in terror from the place.

Senator Noel has filed the following specifications and charges against Judge Rhea:

To the Joint Committee on Confirmation:

I hold that W. F. Rhea should not be confirmed as a member of the State Corporation Commission for the following reasons:

1. Because he is believed by both Democrats and Republicans in southwest Virginia to be an

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

2. Because he believed to have won his election to Congress by countenancing, encouraging and abetting the most outrageous frauds, such as voting of dead men whose names remained on the registration books, the influence of local county ballot and othe like frauds.

3. In 1902 he is believed to have knowingly permitted changing and falsifying of election returns in Scott, Russell and Buchanan counties.

4. He has been accused of accepting a bribe while Judge of this State.

The substantiate these charges I refer the committee and General Assembly to the records of General Fitzhugh Lee's contested election case in Southwest counties and orders entered in Judge Rhea's court in the Jordon case.

I give to the committee the following list of witnesses, whom I believe will sustain most of the above charges—to-wit:

W. D. Smith, Isaac Coley, Colonel J. R. Richmond, W. S. Cox, Boatwright, Sam Haynes, of Gate City, Va.; H. M. Carter, Dryden; Tom Templeton, Appalachia, Va.; Calvin Cowden, Rye Cove, Va.; Pesick, M. F. Powers, W. W. Harrison, Hugh Rouse and Friend, Va.; Hugh Rouse and Frank Ruth, Lebanon, Va.; Walter Pickhouse, Castlewood, Va.; W. C. Pendleton, Tazewell; W. B. Gibbs, Wise; Howard Miller, of Norton, Va.

The names of other witnesses will be furnished if the committee and General Assembly decide to hold an investigation.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. NOEL.

Judge Rhea Answers.

With the determination to clear his good name, and make it impossible for those who assail it, ex-Judge William F. Rhea, of Duffield, accompanied by former Senator A. M. Pidgar, of Pulaski, and Hon. Walter Preston, of Wytheville, reached Richmond today.

He and his party are staying at the Richmond. Shortly after their arrival Judge Rhea went over to the Capitol, and made an emphatic denial of the charges preferred against him by Senator Noel, and demanded an open investigation.

Judge Rhea's Statement.

Judge Rhea issued the statement made following statement:

"I have served two terms of eight years each as judge of the judge of Washington county when 'two-year-ons' did not hold that office four years. I was then elected to the State Senate, serving for four years. I was then elected by unanimous vote of the General Assembly, as I now remember, judge of the Corporation Court of the city of Bristol, and served ninety days and then resigned to resume the practice of law. Soon thereafter I was elected to Congress, my majority being 726, when, two years before, the district had gone 2,000 Republican.

"I served two years in Congress, was unanimously renominated and my majority for my second term was 1,756, while President McKinley's majority in my congressional district was 1,500 over Mr. Bryan, and I served that term in Congress.

"I court the most public, open and searching investigation of my whole political and judicial career. I will go further and say that I, after having been named for the high and honorable office to which the Governor appointed me, the joint session of the General Assembly unanimously reconfirmed me, and all charges made still pending, I would not have accepted the position until the General Assembly had made an investigation of said charges and I had been completely exonerated. This is all the statement I care to make at this time."

MAD BULL TOSSED LADY INTO A TREE

JACKSONVILLE, N. J.—Special.—Chased by an angry bull, Phoebe Polhemus, daughter of a well-to-do farmer, took refuge in a tree in their uncle's pasture, but the infuriated animal tore up a small birch when she felt the tree, and she fell to the ground. The bull then gored the back of the dress which she clutched as drowning victims clutch at straws. The animal then bounded off across the uneven ground, leaving the farmer in a safe place before it stumbled and fell, throwing the girl heavily to the ground.

The shock that had shaken Miss Polhemus out of the tree was caused by Miss Cavanaugh being tossed by the bull into the branches. When Farmer Cavanaugh rushed to the assistance of pieces he found pieces hanging from a limb by her skirts. The girls were hysterical.

Miss Cavanaugh was badly bruised, and will be kept to her bed for several days.

CHARGE LIQUOR MEN BRIBED THE JUDGE

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 22.—Charges that Judge Jackson, of the Circuit Court, accepted bribes from liquor Judge John S. McDonald, one of the most prominent Republican politicians of the county.

John McDonald is accused of official misconduct, neglect of duty, habitual drunkenness and other misdeeds. The inquiry will be of vital importance to the planters of cotton and to the spinners as well.

The charges allege that a local liquor dealer, named Clarke, operating under the name of the Clarke Liquor company, of this city, paid him $12,000, in consideration that he would appoint certain people who were interested in the Clarke company to the offices of Commissioner of Accounts and Clerk of the Circuit Court, and that he would appoint Thomas W. Marcellus, grand confidential agent of the Clarke Liquor Company, Tom Clarke, Jr., and Fleming, the second a brakeman, to the offices.

Court Reporter Marcellus, a star witness for the prosecution, was on the witness stand today to repeated thefts of money from the pockets of visitors in the yards and implicating Confidential Agent Fleming in the thefts.

The robberies are said to have extended over a period of several months, in which a large quantity of money was stolen from the pockets of visitors to the yards.

SAMUEL G. FAIRBANKS DEAD IN RICHMOND

RICHMOND, VA.—Special.—Samuel G. Fairbank, president of the Capitol Savings Bank and senior member of the firm of S. G. Fairbank & Co., feed and grain dealers, 1702 East Cary Street, died shortly before 12 o'clock today at his home, 720 West Grace Street. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Fairbank was seventy years old and among the most prominent business men of Richmond. He had been a great sufferer for several years.

He leaves a widow and three sons—John, J. Grayson and Andrew Fairbank.

The funeral announcement will be made tomorrow.

DISSENTING PROXY R. F. & P. STOCKHOLDER

The list of holders of the stocks of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad shows six shares of guaranteed stock, one share of common stock, and one hundred and thirty-one shares of dividend obligations standing in the name of Judge A. L. Holladay, of Richmond.

The list also shows forty shares of guaranteed stock and ten shares of dividend obligations standing in the name of Mrs. Holladay.

Judge Holladay, who is one of the State proxies, today when shown the list, declared that it was approximately correct.

SENATOR HART TAKES THE OATH OF OFFICE

RICHMOND, VA.—Special.—

ENDORSE DANIEL FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Confederate Veteran Camp at New York Cheers Suggestion That the Virginia Senator Should Make the Race.

NEW YORK—Special—Senator J. W. Daniel, of Virginia, General Stewart L. Woodford, and R. E. Lee, a grandson of the Confederate commander, were the guests of honor at the annual banquet of the Confederate Veteran Camp of New York last night. Major Edward Owen, commander of the camp, was the toastmaster, and the three guests were the chief speakers.

In introducing Senator Daniel, Major Owen said that if the Democratic party knew what it was about it would nominate the Senator for the presidency, and the sentiment brought forth a round of cheers.

Senator Daniel said:

"We may know what we are, but not what we might be."

Touching briefly on the Civil war, he said he was to hear Major Owen, here in the heart of Yankeedom, nominate Joe Freident a comrade of the Stonewall Brigade.

WIFE NO. 5'S STORY TICKLED THE JUDGE

NEW YORK—Special—In the Supreme Court in White Plains County Justice Mills nearly laughed himself off the bench today when Mrs. Margaret Keller gave her testimony in Caroline Keller against Louis Keller.

Keller is the proprietor of the Hotel East Chester and is seventy-nine years old. Mrs. Keller, who is twenty-seven, has spent the greater part of her life promising that he will love, cherish and obey. Her present husband, who is fifty-three years old, is his fifth wife.

"I was married to Keller one day he saw me drinking wine. Then he got me drunk and married me. Then he got me drunk and married me. Then he got me drunk and married me
